

Growth of Vermont Savings Banks.

There is no matter with reference to which the people of Vermont have greater right to feel a sincere pride than in her Savings Banks.

She stands first in granite, first in marble and, barring Pennsylvania, she produces more slate than all other states of the Union combined.

She leads in scales; she produces the best maple sugar in the world.

Size considered, she leads the country in dairy products, and small as she is, she ranks 10th in the United States in this line of farming, only the larger and more important states leading her.

The thrift of her people is one of the things about which we have a right to feel especial pride. Here are the figures showing the gain in her Savings Banks deposits for the past 60 years:

Note that the annual increase for the past ten years has been approximately Four Million Dollars while the average for the fifty years prior to 1905 was less than One Million Dollars.

1855	-	$897,407.00
1865	-	1,708,531.00
1875	-	6,004,694.00
1885	-	13,699,231.00
1895	-	30,403,264.43
1905	-	49,371,907.68
1915	-	89,200,474.71

It is a notable fact that Vermont has the largest savings bank in any country village in the world. The village of Hyde Park, which the last census shows to have a population of 423, enjoys the unique distinction of being the home of a savings bank having July 1, 1915, assets of $2,915,660.54.

So long as the Hyde Park Bank is conducted along those lines of absolute safety which have characterized its management since its organization in 1889, so long may we expect to see that bank maintain a healthy and substantial growth because Vermonters will take justifiable pride in maintaining this pre-eminence of Vermont in the banking world by making it their depository.

The Hyde Park Bank will pay depositors all that it believes it can pay consistent with absolute safety. It does not try to increase its rate to depositors by investing in localities which will pay 7 per cent or 8 per cent, and even more, because it believes that high rates of interest usually mean questionable strength and doubtful security.

The Hyde Park Bank pays 4 per cent compounded semi-annually and pays all taxes.

It is perfectly safe to send money to this bank by mail, a fact proven by its experience since its organization, for not a dollar sent to this bank by mail has ever been lost.

Remittances can safely be made by personal or bank check, postal or express money order and by registered letter.

The Hyde Park Bank cordially invites every Vermontor to write, or better still, to call upon its President, Carroll S. Page or its Treasurer, F. M. Culver and personally investigate the bank's painstaking method of securing absolute safety for all depositors.

GRANDMA'S PRAYER.

I pray that risen from the dead
I may in glory stand;
A crown, perhaps, upon my head,
But a needle in my hand.

I've never learned to sing or play,
So let no harp be mine.
From birth until my dying day
Plain sewing's been my line.

Therefore accustomed to the end
To playing useful stitches,
I'll be content if asked to mend
The little angels' breeches.
